With MNS you never travel alone

Since day one, we envisioned our service functioning throughout the world, like a travel companion you could always rely on in an emergency. Another step towards that goal is the latest upgrade to our subscriber profile, which now allows for international addresses, phone numbers and country codes for all contacts around the world. In addition to the profile and contact upgrades, we have also added Google

Translator, which allows for our website to be translated into 60 languages and Babylon 9 has been implemented to translate medical info in 75 languages. Coupled with our 22 multilingual call centers around the country and Puerto Rico, we can assist you in your emergency no matter where you might travel.

Roger Wood from the US Department of State acknowledges that a service such as ours can be a great benefit for those who travel abroad especially those with chronic conditions and or citizens who travel alone.

At i-Surance, we believe protecting your future involves much more than just writing policies. It means staying ahead of developments in the insurance industry, finding the most cost effective programs and providing helpful advice based on a strong, long-term personal relationship. The key to preparing for the future is to draw from years of experience. Privately owned and operated, i-Surance utilizes the experience and expertise of its licensed agents. Continuous education and hard work enable us to meet the needs of our clients in an ever changing industry. Since we are not bound to one company's products, we can combine programs from the country's top providers, effectively scan the marketplace for the most cost effective policies and always keep your best interests in mind.

Pet Sitters Best Friend

When it comes to our pets, many of us see them as loved family members, and that being the case, we want the very best for them! PetsitUSA was founded with this in mind; for pet guardians and the welfare of their companions. The goal was to create an easy way for people throughout the country to locate professionals who are able provide special, loving, care for their best friends. In addition to the contact information for pet care businesses in your neighborhood, we provide you with helpful information about the services they offer. Although pet sitters, dog walkers, and dog daycares are being called on more and more by pet guardians worldwide, every day people are turning to them for the very first time. For that reason we have included informative checklists and FAQs to help you and your pet care professional ensure the safety of your pets in your absence.

Whether your best friend sports fur, feathers, scales, or fins, it's our hope that at PetsitUSA, you'll find the information you want and the pet care professional that will meet your needs!

As we head into the holiday season, we suggest the following:

Exercise patience and understanding, you never know the burden others may have to bear.

A little bit of kindness goes a long way, start paying it forward this season.

Be vigilant, not everyone has good intentions this time of year. Make sure to keep your vehicle locked and packages out of sight.

All of us at My Notification Service would like to extend a most sincere wish for a safe and healthy holiday season.

What is growing faster than identity theft?

Did you know serious medical emergencies happen at least twice as often as identity theft, over 20 million people were rushed to an emergency room last year. If you are unable to communicate with emergency personnel, they have no way of obtaining potentially vital medical information, about you. In addition to the lack of medical information the hospital wouldn't know whom to contact. Which could become crucial if you are responsible for children an elderly parent or pets.

Don't allow your emergency
